Yes, I've tried to forget you, get you out of my life
But my heart just won't let me, that's why I'm calling tonight
I can't help but wonder, about your plans for the night
If you'd like to come over, sure beats lonely tonight.

Just tell me you love me, no I won't mind a lie
Foolish me, I'll believe you, at least for tonight
After all of the million tears I've cried, hey what's one more lie
Please tell me you love me, at least for tonight.

I know you're my weakness and you've known all along
And I'm sure to regret this, when my mind clears at dawn
But now in the moment oh it'll all seem so right
If you'll tell me you love me, at least one more time.

Just tell me you love me, no I won't mind a lie
Foolish me, I'll believe you, at least for tonight
After all of the million tears I've cried, hey what's one more lie
Please tell me you love me, at least for tonight.
