The San Antonio Song 2 ADE 105

Donna Baxter

Line up the long necks baby I'm coming home Got me a ticket for the next train to San Antonio No time to pack

Just this old guitar and the clothes on my back Hightailing back to Texas oh Lord I've learned my lesson, Home is San Antonio.

What a fool I was to wander from the two loves of their life Every where I lay my head there's one thing on my mind I'm coming home
To San Antonio
I'll buy the margaritas if you meet me on the river At Home In San Antonio

As the night falls on the city, we'll saddle up and ride
To the hill country casa and beneath the starry sky
We'll get it on
Oh sweet San Antonio
All wrapped up in your arms I thank those Texas stars they called me home
To San Antonio.

BREAK

Line up the long necks baby I'm coming home
Got me a ticket for the next train to San Antonio
No time to pack
Just this old guitar and the clothes on my back
Hightailing back to Texas, oh Lord I've learned my lesson,
Home is San Antonio
